

Dear Exhibitor,

In the coming weeks towards the IWA World Water Congress & Exhibition 2016 (IWA WWCE2016) we will send you regular updates on various aspects of your participation as exhibitor in this global water event.

All updates will be numbered, so you can easily file them and keep track on progress.

This Update is Update nr. 8.

Delegate badge scanners

As exhibitor we'd like to introduce you to the "EpiTracker", an exciting innovative technology available to exhibitors of the IWA WWCE2016.

EpiTracker is an App designed for your mobile device, available to use through iTunes or Google Play. You need only download the APP onto your own mobile devices to be able to start scanning delegate badges. This tracking system will allow you to establish your industry based preset questions to delegates and make changes throughout the day. These responses along with the delegate demographics are then available in a "live" reporting portal which can be easily exported into an excel document for uplift into your CRM.

This APP replaces all those clunky systems in the market place where you have needed to hire equipment, wait for reports and generally become frustrated with the process. The reporting is instant and there is even a feature to access reports into varying file formats.

The App is being operated by Ozaccom+.

The price to download this App is 350AUS$ / 240Euro for one user. More information and detail will follow soonest.

We are currently doing an inventory among exhibitors on the interest in using this tracking App, based on that interest we will decide on the actual operation of it.

For now ask you to indicate your interest in using this App. Due to operational preparations we need to have your answer by Wednesday 28 September at the latest after which we will inform you on the final set up.

Can you please reply to this e-mail and indicate whether you would like to use such delegate badge scanner?
