Office National de l'Electricité et de l'Eau Potable

L'Office National de l'Electricité et de l'Eau Potable (ONEE), is a public institution, created in 2012 by the merger of l'Office National de l'Electricité (ONE) created in 1963 and l'Office National de l'Eau Potable (ONEP) created in 1972. ONEE is fully involved in major structuring projects for Morocco's sustainable development, providing the country with infrastructure for the production, transport and distribution of water and electricity as well as the treatment of wastewater.
